Custom cycling apparel offer 2024
for clubs, teams and individuals.

Hey!

It's Andžs Flaksis here, the person behind the Anch brand. I was professional cyclist for little more than a decade, wore and tested countless brands and kits over years, rode thru heat in California and cold in homeland Latvia. Lived and breathed cycling through victories, losses and injuries and loved every second of it.

I have always been intrigued by cycling's fashion and technical aspects of it. After racing years came to an end I decided to stay in cycling industry by developing cycling apparel brand Anch.

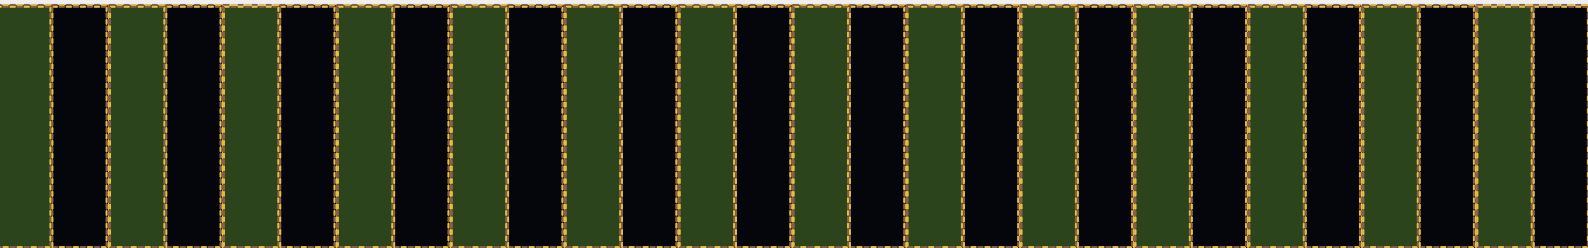

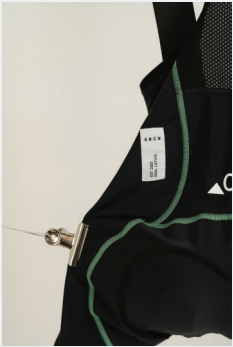

It's been super cool to make collection kits at www.anch.cc for brand, but now I am excited now to offer possibility for clubs, teams and individuals to order Anch products with custom design.

Last year I already created a couple custom kits, see one of them in the next slide. It was for Oskars Muižnieks and Lauris Purniņš for their upcoming challenge in Cape Epic 2024!

I would absolutely be thrilled to help you make your vision for your custom kit to come to life.

Andžs.
